Student Artwork Selected for Exhibit

The NYSATA (New York State Art Teachers Association) sponsored New York State School Boards Association (NYSSBA) Exhibit is an annual art exhibit that brings attention to student work with members of local school boards at the School Board Association's annual convention. This year, Solvay Middle School will have three student's artwork on display. Congratulations to 6th graders: Monroe Greco, Tori Suarez, and Kenady Kaltenbach.

Since 2020 the convention has included to an online platform to provide flexibility with the changing times. Images of artwork are submitted and used to create a virtual exhibit representing the 10 NYSATA regions. Students from elementary and secondary schools across the state are featured in this prestigious show. Members attending the convention in New York City in October will be able to view the student artwork. Attendees and the public will continue to have access to the virtual art exhibit through December 31, 2024 at www.nysata.org.

SMS Cross Country Team

On September 18, Solvay hosted their modified cross country meet at Long Branch Park. While competing, the team ran into some dinosaurs at the Park!

SES Students Travel to Library

Sue Collins, Cheryl Fox and Elijah Wright's 4th grade class were invited by Brian Rowlands, library manager of the Solvay Public Library, to attend an educational opportunity at the library. Karen Belcher, director of the Food Bank of CNY talked to the students about programs that they offer to community members. Jim Sarosy, chief operating officer of the Syracuse Crunch, read a children's book about the effects of hunger on youth. The students were engaged and answered questions about the book, making connections about the Solvay community. Before leaving, the each student was given an apple. One student was lucky and won the raffle of a hockey puck used by the Syracuse Crunch.

Class of '74 Reunion

Recently, the Class of 1974 held their 50th year reunion. As part of the celebration, the class had a tour of Solvay High School guided by Jay Tinklepaugh, Superintendent and DeeDee Hagemann, principal.
